Entering the hospitality field at a young age, I quickly realized that my career path involved being in the service of others. The ability to create unique, captivating, and unparalleled experiences for people is deeply humbling to me; and even after more than 20 years in the industry, it is still as rewarding as it ever was.

My hospitality management expertise was garnered through work experience at distinctive properties including hotels designated as 'Travel & Leisure's Top 500 Hotels in the World as well as high-end private country clubs. I was privileged to hold executive committee positions which allowed me to cultivate my creative and competitive spirit.

Joining Grand View's team as their General Manager in February of 2020 has been a fortuitous opportunity. I am truly inspired by the ownership and teams' commitment to excellence in service under all circumstances. The chance to lead this special team and play a part in delivering Grand View's vision is a responsibility that I both thrive on and genuinely look forward to. At Grand View our job is not simply to plan your events, but to create and deliver an experience that you desire and deserve. While many people consider this work, we consider it our calling and our privilege.
